

COMING TOGETHER.

Democratic Statesmen Gathering at Chicago.

CONVENTION PREPARATIONS.

The Virtues of the Several Candidates Being Discussed by Their Friends. Final Arrangements Will Be Made on Friday.

CHICAGO, June 16.—As the date of the Democratic national convention approaches, the virtue of the several candidates are being discussed by their friends. The hotels are receiving the advance guard of the army of statesmen who will make Chicago their home next week.

Chairman Brice may be here on Friday. The national committee holds a conference on Friday with the local committee on arrangements, and will finish up all the odds and ends of business between the national and local bodies. A full attendance of the committee is expected. If Mr. Brice does not arrive he will probably be the only absentee. One vacancy exists on the committee, owing to the death of C. A. Broadwater, of Montana. That vacancy will be filled, but it is not known at present who will be the man.

The Boies boom, although of no great dimensions as yet, shows good staying powers and may assume promising proportions. On the first ballot the friends of Governor Boies declare that he will have at least 80 votes. To the 26 of his own state, which will be cast solidly for the governor through thick and thin, will be added material support from South Carolina, Florida, South Dakota, Missouri, Kentucky and Nebraska. After the first ballot, which, if the two-thirds rule is adopted, if they feel sure that no nomination can be made these Iowa Democrats predict that the south and the whole great northwest will rally to the support of their candidate. If nominated they are ready to give bond that Governor Boies will carry not only Iowa but Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, South Dakota, Nevada, Washington, California and Colorado, as well as poll the full party vote in the other states.

"Iowa Democrats are for Governor Boies," said Mr. Hunter, who is steering the Iowa boom, "because they feel that he is the only available candidate so far presented. He is the only candidate who will have behind him the undivided support of his own state. Governor Boies will be nominated before the convention by the Hon. John F. Duncombe, of Fort Dodge, general counsel in Iowa for the Illinois Central. We wish it understood that his name is not being pushed in order to make him available for the vice presidency. Under no circumstances would he accept such a nomination."

"The nomination of Benjamin Harrison by the Republicans makes it necessary for the Democracy to carefully consider before they nominate a man whom Harrison defeated four years ago. Governor Boies is emphatically a vote getter. He will poll more votes than any candidate who is, rightfully or wrongfully, involved in a factional contest. Governor Boies is safe and available. He ought to be nominated because he can be elected, and that is why the Democrats of Iowa are urging his name."

According to the members of the advance guard, fully 10,000 Iowans will arrive in Chicago next week to shout for their governor. Permanent headquarters for the state will be opened in Rooms 31 and 32 at the Palmer. All the delegates from Iowa will reach the city Saturday morning, and a meeting will be at once held by them at headquarters.

Colonel John Tracy, who is at the Grand Pacific, expects Colonel G. Monroe, secretary of the New York Cleveland delegation, to reach the city this evening, and Mayor Grace and ex-Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild to-morrow. The main body of the Cleveland men, 500 strong, will flood the Grand Pacific on Saturday next.

The Great Northern hotel, which opened yesterday, will be headquarters by Sunday for the Cleveland club, of Buffalo, with 225 men; the Young Men's Democratic club, of Philadelphia, with 250, and the Young Men's Democratic club, of Kansas City, with 175.

There is talk of a coalition of the Palmer-Morrison forces in this state to prevent the nomination of Cleveland. The vote of Illinois, it is said, will probably be cast for Palmer on the first two ballots. Then Morrison may come in for some support. "Illinois with its forty-eight delegates may have a deciding voice," said an Illinois delegate this morning. "We may be for Morrison, or Gorman, or Flower. It is now clear that Hill will fight Cleveland. That being the case Cleveland is out of the question. Flower is not big enough for president, though if New York presents him, we may vote for him."

"There are a number of favorite sons. Gray of Indiana, Pattison of Pennsylvania, Boies of Iowa, Carlisle of Kentucky, Russell of Massachusetts, Gray of Delaware is also mentioned. Pattison and Russell are the most promising of the lot, and events could arise which would give victory to one or the other. The adoption of either by New York would settle it. If an eastern man is chosen for president, then Gray, of Indiana, is certain of the vice presidency."

The Illinois delegation will have a meeting Saturday, when several matters will be settled. Congressman R. R. Cable will be named for the national committee. A. E. Stevenson may be named to hold the delegation, though an effort will be made to give that honor to Mr. Crafts. It is not likely that anything will be decided as to the presidency until a subsequent meeting. Congressman Fithian and several of Morrison's friends are here working hard for that statesman. They will be re-inforced soon by Congressman Forman, Owen Scott, and other Egyptian statesmen. Congressman Prather, of Missouri, will also be on hand to help out.

Charles F. Peck, of Hornellsville, N. Y., is the avant courier of the Hill boom. He wears on his breast red ribbon with gold fringe on one end of it. A portrait of David Bennett Hill, printed in blue ink on a square of white ribbon, is sewed to it. Mr. Peck was appointed commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics of the state of New York by Mr. Cleveland while the latter was governor, but he does not believe the ex-president can carry New York this time. "I do not believe," he said, "that Cleveland can carry the state, while I know that Hill can do it."

"Cleveland has proven his inability to carry the state, while by seven successive victories in as many years Hill has given evidence that he can carry it. It is essential to Democratic success that New York shall be carried and I do not see how the convention, which I believe will be composed of practical politicians, can do otherwise than nominate Hill. It will certainly not nominate a man who, on his first appearance, carried the state by 192,000 votes, who carried it two years later by a scratch of only 1,100 votes, and then in 1888 lost it by 19,000 plurality."

"The Republican ticket, because of its tail, can not possibly carry New York, and the resulting fact is that David B. Hill will be nominated at the Chicago convention and will be elected president by an overwhelming vote. Reid has killed the Republican ticket in New York because 250,000 organized labor men are now against him. Cleveland is 50,000 votes weaker than he was four years ago, because he is distrusted. This distrust for Cleveland arose from a belief that he sympathized with, if he did not give his support to, the mongrel ticket which almost lost us the state of New York. I do not make this charge, but there is no use trying to conceal the fact that it is generally believed."

C. F. Cochran, of St. Joseph, Mo., is at the Grand Pacific in advance of the delegation from his state. "There is not a single precinct in Missouri which would take Hill as second choice," he said, "in preference to Palmer, Campbell, Gorman, Boies or any other possibility. The Missouri delegation is largely in favor of Cleveland, but they can be brought to the support of another candidate if they find any good reason why such action should be taken. No power of earth could force them, however, to aid in the nomination of Hill."

Colonel John F. Tracy, of New York, who has made all arrangements for the Cleveland headquarters at the Grand Pacific, had two secretaries busily engaged all of yesterday in the preparation of many letters and much literature, arranging newspaper clippings and pamphlets, intended to be used in aid of the arguments for Cleveland. The literature will be distributed among all the arriving delegations.

Senator Vest, of Missouri, arrived here yesterday. He was seen by a United Press reporter, who asked him to define his position in view of the current rumor that the Missouri senator had withdrawn his support for Mr. Cleveland as a presidential candidate. Mr. Vest said: "I am not in Chicago on political business, nor do I propose to attend the convention, but I am a Democrat and I want to see my party nominate a Democrat who can be elected. For that reason and in view of this talk, I authorize the United Press to say that I apprehend that Mr. Cleveland can not carry the state of New York."

"My feeling toward Mr. Cleveland has not changed. I regard him now with the same confidence and friendship that I have ever felt, but I doubt his power to carry his state."

"How will the Missouri delegation vote, senator?"

"Solidly for Cleveland. There can be no question about it. The people of Missouri want him nominated and some of them have become almost angry with me whenever I suggested the possibility of his losing New York."

FINED $157,700

For Selling Whisky in Lancaster, Ky., a Local Option Town.

LANCASTER, June 16.—Lancaster is a local option town, but she has her "blind tigers." Several days ago Henry A. Burdett, a detective, took the matter in hand and began to work up cases against the illicit whisky sellers of "Battle Row," a negro settlement.

He reported Wednesday morning and five negroes and one white man were arrested on 3,211 warrants. The white man's name is Frank Turner, who hails from a faction by that name in Bell county. He was fined $100 each in 1,577 cases, amounting to $157,700.

Turner is now in jail for kidnapping an important witness against him. A negro named John Smith, who was engaged in the business with Turner, confessed in 1,565 cases. There is fun ahead one way or the other. Burdett, the detective, has several brothers, who will protect him against the Turners, several in number, who, it is believed, will try to do him an injury.

Joined the Great Majority.

VALPARAISO, Ind., June 16.—Abel Isham, one of the oldest residents, is dead. He was born in 1810, came here in 1841, and kept the first book store here.

DRIVEN INSANE BY AN ASSAULT.

Sad Flight of Miss Woods, the Victim of Ex-Mayor Higgins, of Somerset, Ky.

SOMERSET, June 16.—Miss Finetta Woods, the young lady victim of the brutal attack of ex-Mayor Higgins, in January last, has just been removed to the Binghamton (N. Y.) asylum. One of the physicians there pronounces her case a hopeless one, but another thinks there may be some hope for her recovery on account of her youth.

DOWN TO DEATH.

Forty-Five People Hurlled Into a River.

SPAN OF A BRIDGE GIVES WAY.

Thirty-Nine Men Meet an Untimely Death, Four Seriously Injured and Only Two Escape—List of the Dead and Injured—Details of the Great Disaster.

CINCINNATI, June 16.—Death held a carnival of horror across the river yesterday. Without an instant's warning the new bridge over the sluggish Licking, uniting Covington and Newport at Twelfth street in one city and Eleventh in the other, dropped into the river, carrying with the wreck over two score of busy workmen.

The main span gave way, carrying with it the Baird brothers, who were directing the work, and the men working with them. The huge iron truss carrying its weight of human flesh fell with a loud splash into the river below, maiming and injuring those who were not killed instantly. Boats were quickly put out from the coal barges near by and an attempt at rescue made. Those of the victims who were not killed at once were pinned down by the heavy iron beams and drowned.

The bridge was an iron truss intended for foot and vehicular travel, and being built more especially for the use of the new belt electric road owned by the Cleveland syndicate to run back of Newport and Covington to Latonia.

The span gave way at 10:30 a. m. At that time forty-five men were engaged in work on the scaffolding of the bridge, which was being erected on the cantilever plan, and out of the forty-five only two escaped without injury. The two men who were so fortunate were Murray Reardon and Jim Caldwell. The other forty-three were buried in the debris of falling timbers, and were either bruised or killed by the force of the fall, or drowned.

Groups of excited spectators gathered quickly on both sides of the river, and the work of rescue was commenced. As the bodies were brought out on the Covington side they were speedily examined by Drs. Thomas, Malloy and Thompson, and the injured were conveyed to the Newport and Cincinnati hospitals.

The men were for the greater part strangers who had no near connections in Covington, and there was a noticeable lack of the scenes which are usually made when the heart-breaking intelligence of the death of a relative by accident is received.

Among those who were killed are Andrew and Robert Baird, of Pittsburg, the contractors who have in charge the construction of the bridge.

Billy Allen, top bridgeman.
Jack Ruby, thirty-one, married, Thornton street, Newport.
Will Ruby, twenty-two, Thornton street, Newport.

Charley Champau, foreman, Canada, boards on Thornton street.

Billy Wessling, carpenter, Newport.
Dick Gorman, carpenter.

Thomas Downing, 117 Monmouth street, Newport.

Dick Spensor, Covington.
Fred Brent, ironworker.

Charles Droneck, 512 West Eleventh street, Newport.

Jim Johnson, ironworker, boards in Newport.

George Burge, ironworker, Newport.
N. W. Burton, ironworker.

Dennis Harlow, ironworker.
B. F. Phelps, ironworker, boarded in Newport.

John O'Neal, Eleventh street, Covington.

C. W. Pfaffenbach, ironworker, boards in Newport.

B. Thomas, Pittsburg, carpenter.
William Wilson, inspector, 159 East Twelfth, Covington.

Thomas Burke.
Charles Gresham, 148 Linn street, Covington.

Fred Pierce.
Frank Shomer, Parkersburg.

William Harlow, Jeffersonville, Ind., drowned.

Road Touville, Jeffersonville, Ind.
Dan Arnold.

Vaughn Adams, Cincinnati.
Charles Stumper, Covington.

Joseph Sonker, Cincinnati.
E. Mure, Newport.

William Alvis, Wheeling.
—Culbertson, Portsmouth, O.

Thomas Rardon.
—O'Brien, Louisville.

Three unknown, at A. Menninger's undertaking establishment.

The following were injured:

L. E. Thomas, 121 Pike street, Covington, head and shoulders crushed.

E. B. Phelps, Newport, hip and head injured.

R. Crouse, Newport, arm and head crushed.

Charles Fitters, Ironton, O. back, broken.

The horrible calamity is due directly to the recent heavy rains.

The traveler was full seventy feet high, and the false work fully sixty-three feet high.

At the place where the disaster occurred the Licking is about one hundred yards wide. The new bridge has two piers, one on each bank, and the iron span leading from the street in Covington to the pier had been practically completed.

This span was not injured by the collapse of the false work.

Many of the men killed were frightfully disfigured. One of the victims taken out on the Covington side was a horrible object. A hole had been made through the chest into his lungs, his skull was crushed and blood spurted from his eyes, ears and mouth. He lived for some minutes in great agony.

As the accident occurred on the dividing line between Covington and Newport, the coroners of both counties will hold inquests. Bodies landed on the Covington side were taken in charge by Coroner Wilson, while those landed in Newport were placed under the care of Coroner Davis.

THE WHEAT CROP.

Outlook Not Favorable for a Good Supply.

CINCINNATI, June 16.—Superintendent Charles B. Murray, of the chamber of commerce, who is gathering statistics relative to the wheat crop throughout the states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, is in receipt of many letters that go to show that the incessant rains and unusually cool weather during the spring-growing months have proved to be injurious to the wheat crop in nearly all sections so far heard from.

One letter received Tuesday from Captain Charles C. Carroll, of Shawneetown, Ill., the largest grower and shipper of corn and wheat in that section, incloses a sample which he says is the best he could gather in a three days' search over numerous fields. The sample sent is nothing but smut, and it is so badly eaten that grain merchants on 'Change fear the crop will prove almost a failure in this immediate vicinity.

CONGRESS.

The House Passes the Fortification Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The house passed the fortification appropriation bill yesterday without division. The measure appropriate $2,412,376 or $1,362,427 less than was appropriated by the last congress. Authority is given to make contracts for certain works, involving a further expenditure of $1,376,600.

The bill reducing the duty on tin plate,terne plate and tigger's tin to one cent a pound after Oct. 1, 1892, and removing all duty thereon after Oct. 1, 1894, occupied the remainder of the day. Mr. Shively, Democrat, of Indiana, Mr. White, Democrat, of Iowa, favoring the measure, while Mr. Raines, Republican, of New York, opposed it. Pending further discussion, the house at 5:20 adjourned.

TYPOS' TRIP.

No Business Transacted by the International Typographical Union.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—The visiting members of the International Typographical union were tendered a complimentary excursion by the ex-delegates' association of Philadelphia to Atlantic City yesterday. Boats carrying the typos to the special train over the Reading railroad route left Chestnut and South street ferries at 9:15 o'clock in the morning.

A dinner was tendered the visitors at the United States hotel in the afternoon. After a dip in the ocean and a ramble through the city, the compositors left at 5:35 o'clock, arriving here at 6:45.

Today the union will go into executive session to consider all matters relating to the report of the Childs-Drexel home special committee. Much important business will be transacted.

A MULE RUNS AMUCK.

One Man Killed, Another's Hand Bitten Off, Four Injured.

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 16.—Ezra Barber, farmer, was attacked and killed by a mule Wednesday morning. His lower jaw was torn loose by the animal, and he was crushed and stamped to a shapeless mass. The wild animal then attacked five men, who attempted to rescue Barber, and after a thrilling fight it was shot and killed. James Pence, one of the rescuers, will lose his right hand from the effects of a bite.

Agreed to Disagree.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The conference on the river and harbor appropriation bill yesterday agreed to disagree and report their disagreement to the senate and house. The majority of items of difference between the two houses had been agreed upon, but no agreement could be reached on the Lake Washington canal and the Oregon projects. The failure to agree will probably be reported to both houses to-morrow and instructions asked for.

Talmage Goes Abroad.

BROOKLYN, June 16.—The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage and Mrs. Talmage sailed yesterday evening on the Inman steamer City of New York for Liverpool. Dr. Talmage will be absent until about the middle of September. He will visit St. Petersburg and Moscow, and will assist in the distribution of the stores that have been contributed for the relief of the famine-stricken people of Russia.

Too Much Excitement.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 16.—J. A. Straussberger, delegate from the Seventh Pennsylvania district to the recent Republican convention, lies critically ill in this city. The strain and excitement of the convention was too much for him, and he is seriously ill, being delirious. His home is in Norristown, Pa.

It Was Not True.

PITTSBURG, June 16.—The report that a steamboat explosion had occurred on the Ohio river near McKee's Rocks proves to be without foundation.

Base Ball.

At Washington—Washington 13, Baltimore 3.

At Pittsburg—First game, Pittsburg 10, Chicago 2; second game, Pittsburg 9, Chicago 10.

At New York—New York 12, Brooklyn 5.

At Boston—Boston 0, Philadelphia 1.

At Cleveland—First game, Cleveland 0, Louisville 4; second game, Cleveland 2, Louisville 1.

Killed by Cars.

RICHMOND, Ind., June 16.—Frank Bettner, aged four years, was killed by the cars at Dublin yesterday.

CYCLONE WRECKED.

A Canadian Village Swept off the Earth.

A NUMBER OF PEOPLE KILLED.

Houses Swept Away, Trees Torn Up from Their Roots and Horses and Cattle Carried Away—The Damage to Property and Crops Will Be Great.

STE. ROSE, Que., June 16.—The pretty little village of Ste. Rose, a fashionable summer resort near Montreal, was entirely obliterated by a cyclone yesterday evening. Houses were swept away, trees were torn from their roots and horses and cattle literally carried away, and deposited in fields hundreds of feet away. The village school building was totally demolished and of the twenty-five young scholars two were dead when found. One died shortly afterwards. Twelve are so badly injured that they will die, and the remainder are more or less injured.

The dead are: Wilfred Ouimet, aged seven; Julie Jolly, aged six, and Stanley Daubien, aged eight.

Those known to be fatally hurt are: Earnestine Ouimet, Edward Ouimet, Edward Gascon, Amelia Cadeux.

The damage done to the farming country was something enormous. The farm buildings of John Thomas and Alphaeus Kington were destroyed, and inmates, five in number, killed.

At Ste. Therese, the public school building in which there were forty children, was blown down and two of the scholars killed and about fifteen others badly injured.

At Lacho and St. Lawrence the damage will be very heavy both to crops and manufacturing interests.

At Upton, two children were killed and a large amount of property destroyed.

KILLED A LUNATIC.

Atrocious Crime Committed by One Farmer Upon Another.

BROWNSBURG, Ind., June 16.—Frank Adams, a farmer and cattle buyer, a man of fine reputation, was murdered at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning by his neighbor, Benjamin Wing, a farmer and dairyman. For several days Adams had shown signs of being demented and several times had taken down a partition fence and turned his cattle upon Wing's premises. This enraged Wing, notwithstanding he was given assurance that what damages was done would be paid by the Adams family and that arrangements would be made to have Adams removed to the asylum. Wing was instructed not to go about Mr. Adams, but Wednesday morning he took a shotgun and went to where Adams was and shot him from his horse, the shot tearing away his face and blowing out his brains. Wing says the killing was done in self-defense.

INCENDIARIES AT CLEVELAND.

Business Men Aroused and Offer a Heavy Reward.

CLEVELAND, June 16.—Business men owning property on the flats here are greatly exercised over the prevalence of incendiary fires. With a $24,000 lumber fire last week and five more attempts to fire the big lumber yards since, it hardly required the destruction of the McDonald Tanning company Tuesday night to thoroughly arouse all concerned. The board of lumber dealers offer $2,500 reward for the arrest and conviction of any firebug, and scores of watchmen are patrolling the threatened district. No explanation can be given for the prevalence of incendiarianism.

Fight at a Dance.

ENGLISH, Ind., June 16.—News has reached here of a serious fight during a picnic at Petronia. The participants were John Grant, John McFarland, John Taylor and Sam Bracken. The last named was on the ground with a phonograph, and there was a disagreement over his refusal to pay for the privilege of exhibiting. Bracken was attacked and he used a pair of "knucks." Two of his opponents are at point of death, while the third, McFarland, is badly bruised. Taylor, whose skull is supposed to be crushed, had his jaw broken and his teeth knocked out. He is the father of George Taylor, who less than a year ago, shot and killed Sherman Hughes at a picnic in the same vicinity.

Ohio Democrats.

COLUMBUS, O., June 16.—The state Democratic convention met here yesterday and nominated the following ticket: For secretary of state, W. A. Taylor, of Franklin county; for judge supreme court (long term), Judge John S. Driggs, of Monroe; short term, Judge Thomas Beers, of Crawford; for clerk of supreme court, William H. Wolff, of Fairfield; for member state board of public works, Captain J. N. Meyers, of Hamilton; presidential electors-at-large, H. S. Sternberger, of Miami; James P. Seward, of Richland; delegates-at-large, Calvin S. Brice, of Allen; James E. Campbell, of Butler; Lawrence T. Neal, of Ross; Robert Blea, of Cuyahoga. The delegates were not instructed.

Elks Increasing.

BUFFALO, June 16.—In the grand lodge of Elks yesterday Grand Ruler Hay delivered his annual address. He said the order had increased 30 per cent. during the year. He opposed the levying of assessments in subordinate lodges and the establishment of clubs. He favored the reduction of the per capita tax and made an appeal for a home for superannuated Elks.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Continued warm and fair weather; south winds.

MR. BLAINE let go to get a better hold and lost his grip altogether.

SECRETARY BLAINE evidently reckoned without his host—Mr. Harrison.

THE Commercial Gazette says: "The Democratic New York Sun declares that Mr. Cleveland can not carry New York." Please give us a rest about the "Democratic Sun." Statements of that kind are a reflection upon the intelligence of your readers.

THE Commercial Gazette reminds its readers that Republican ratification meetings are now in order. By the way, the rank and file of the G. O. P. don't seem to be ratifying with much vim, or with much frequency. The C. G.'s remark is timely. Hurry up with those ratification meetings.

CONGRESSMAN AMOS J. CUMMINGS says the fight in New York is not as intense as reports would indicate and that either Cleveland or Hill would get the full Democratic vote. This is significant coming as it does from a Tammanyite and former editor of the New York Sun that has always fought Cleveland. There are indications that the Democrats at Chicago next week will make their nomination by acclamation.

A. W. CLANCY, one of the few Blaine delegates from Iowa to the Minneapolis convention, is sorely disappointed. "If Cleveland is nominated we will have a hard fight on our hands," said Mr. Clancy, "and should Mr. Boies, of Iowa, be named I am not quite so sure that he would not carry Iowa. Boies is a very popular man, particularly among the young voters." With Cleveland and Boies to head the ticket Democracy would stand a good show of winning in Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

What One Enterprise is Doing.

Ripley's shoe factory is now employing 115 hands. It started out about a year ago with less than twenty hands.

Two thirds of the present employees are married men who have already moved their families to Ripley or will do so at an early day.

With the present force of hands the factory has all the business it can attend to, the company not being able to keep up with the orders for their goods.

When will Maysville catch on?

Annual Commencement.

The annual commencement of the Academy of the Visitation of this city will take place on Wednesday morning, June 22nd, at half past ten o'clock. The programme prepared for the occasion will undoubtedly give much pleasure and satisfaction.

The graduating honors in the English course will be conferred on Miss Frankie B. Hord, of Helena. Tickets of invitation will be sent to the patrons, former pupils and special friends of the institution. The Young Ladies Sodality B. V. M. are cordially invited to be present at the closing exercises of the Academy.

Those to whom formal invitations are extended must present their card at the door to obtain admission.

When Traveling,

Whether on pleasure bent, or business, take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectively on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50 cents and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

RIPLY's fair will be held this year on August 30 and 31 and September 1 and 2.

THE MISSES YOUNG'S SCHOOL.

The Closing Exercises Unusually Interesting and Very Enjoyable.
The Programme.

The patrons and friends of the Misses Young's school crowded the spacious parlors of their residence on Limestone street on Tuesday last, to witness the closing exercises.

The programme was an unusually interesting one and was rendered in a manner which showed that the pupils had been under the care of conscientious, painstaking teachers. The recitations were well selected, and were rendered in a manner quite pleasing to the audience. The essays indicated maturity of thought and the well rounded sentences gave evidence of careful training in grammar and rhetoric.

The dramatic and musical parts of the entertainment were very enjoyable, and their rendition called forth many compliments from the delighted audience. The violin music by Misses Lida Rogers and Lena Nolin, of Professor A. Haucke's class, and little Garnet Haucke's performance on the piano were very creditable to the young performers, showing that they had decided talent and were under the care of teachers who know how to develop it. Altogether it was a very enjoyable entertainment, and reflected credit on both teachers and pupils. The following is the programme rendered:

Recitation....."Pert Chicken"
Master Frank Fitzgerald.
Recitation....."The Soldier"
Master Richard Carr.
Piano solo....."Brick-a-Brac Polka"
Miss Garnet Haucke.
Recitation....."A Boy's Composition on Girls"
Master Claude Watkins.
Recitation....."Two Girls of Eighteen and Twelve"
Miss Maggie Duke Watson.
Violin solo....."Marsellies Hymn"
Miss Lena Nolin.
Essay—"The English Have Sprung From the Same Race as the Germans." Miss Irma Nolin.
Recitation....."Mrs. Arithmetical's Ball"
Master Harry Fitzgerald.
Recitation....."The Lost Chord"
Miss Florence Darnall.
Doll's Cradle Song.....Carl Reinecke
By the little girls.
"Tyrolean Echoes".....Violin and Piano
Misses Lydia and Florence Rogers.
Essay—"Chords That Vibrate Sweetest Pleasures Sound the Deapest Notes of Woe."
Miss Nettie Roe.

Miss Margaret Nolin, Pianist.

THE Court of Appeals has continued the case of Bedford against Bedford's administrator taken up from Lewis County.

LOUISVILLE, Lexington, Crab Orchard, Bowling Green, Paducah, Williamstown, Maysville, Georgetown and several other Kentucky towns all have institutes for the cure of drunkenness, and a company has just been organized at Owensboro.

MR. CHARLES FORMAN, of New Orleans, who is visiting near Washington, was much pleased with his first sight of Maysville. He found a much larger and more pretentious city than he expected, and ahead of New Orleans as far as street railway facilities are concerned. The Crescent City still depends upon the slow going "hoss-car."

JOHN CROWLEY's relatives at Newport have been searching for him since May 14, when he disappeared with $2,000 in his pocket, but their uneasiness was relieved when the missing man turned up all right. He had been taking a trip to his old home in Ireland. He gave as a reason for his sudden departure that his family objected, and not desiring to be persuaded out of it, he left without consulting any one.

MENTION is made elsewhere of the partnership formed by Drs. J. T. Strode and J. H. Samuel. The hospital life of Dr. Samuel certainly gave him an extensive field from which to obtain a varied experience in the treatment of cases both of a medical and surgical character. As physician in an asylum for the insane he had presented an unlimited opportunity to direct treatment to all forms of nervous diseases, and for several years having exclusive professional charge of the female patients, his opinion as to treatment of troubles of this nature is certainly entitled to the greatest consideration. Dr. Strode is known to the people of Maysville and vicinity, having been one of the most successful practitioners of this city for years.

PURELY PERSONAL.

AN OFFICER SHOT.

Deputy Marshal Stockdale Dangerously Wounded by "Boley" Price.

The Latter Hit in the Neck and is Seriously Hurt—Particulars of the Affair.

An affray that may result in the death of both of the participants occurred last night.

About 11 o'clock Deputy Marshal W. A. Stockdale was shot and dangerously wounded by William Price, better known as "Boley" Price. The latter was also wounded, and his injuries are also considered of a very serious character.

Officer Stockdale's home on the west side of Walnut street, between Second and Third, Fifth ward, was the scene of the shooting. Price lives with his parents, whose residence adjoins that of Stockdale.

Mr. Stockdale's account of the affair is, that he and his wife had been seated for some time in front of their door. His wife finally got up and went in the house. He remained in his chair, and was soon dozing, when some one passed. This aroused him and he got up, and taking his chair started to enter the house. Just then some one commenced shooting at him. As soon as he could draw his pistol he returned the fire.

The above is the officer's version of the trouble. Price claims Stockdale fired the first shot. As far as known there were no eye witnesses of the affair.

Four shots were fired altogether—two by each of the parties. Only one shot on each side took effect. The pistols used were of 38-calibre.

The ball that struck Stockdale entered a little to the right and just above the navel. It ranged around and lodged about twelve inches from the point of entrance. It has not been removed. The wound is considered a very dangerous one, but Mr. Stockdale is resting very well.

This makes the sixth ball he now carries in his body. He was shot seven times some years ago by George Hancock, and five of the balls were never removed.

The ball that struck Price last night was a glancing shot. It struck the chin, almost directly in the center, ranged downward, and striking what is known as the "Adam's Apple," was turned to the left and is thought to have lodged in the muscles of the neck. The opinion at first was that the ball came out at the "Adam's Apple," but this was found to be a mistake when the wound was probed this morning. The wound is more dangerous than it was thought to be at first.

The shooting last night was the result of a feud that has existed between the two for several years. On June 13, 1889, Price got into a quarrel with George Cook in front of the Central Hotel and was arrested by Stockdale. He resisted and pulling a knife commenced cutting at the officer, when Stockdale pulled his pistol and shot Price, wounding him in the right leg above the knee.

Since then Price has figured in another shooting affray. On Thursday, August 21, 1890, at the fair grounds, he shot Joe Forsythe, of Millersburg, through the right lung, inflicting a wound which came near proving fatal. Price was acquitted on the ground of self-defense.

QUIETLY WEDDED.

Marriage of Mr. Charles Ort and Miss Bessie Sauvary Wednesday Afternoon.

Mr. Charles E. Ort and Miss Bessie Sauvary were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents on Second street, Fifth ward. Rev. Dr. Hanford, of Ashland, formerly pastor of the M. E. Church, officiated. The parlors were crowded with relatives and intimate friends to witness the union of the happy couple. The newly-wedded left later in the afternoon for their future home at Felicity, O.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sauvary. She wore a very pretty costume of cream Bedford cord with moss trimmings and lace. The groom is the youngest son of the late George Ort, Sr., and is engaged in the milling business at Felicity. He and his bride are most excellent and worthy young people, and they carry with them to their Ohio home the best wishes of their many friends.

Dr. Simcox, of Covington, Miss Katio Ort, of Felicity, Mr. William Sauvary and Miss Mamie Sauvary were the attendants.

Among the guests from a distance were Miss Effie Hanford, of Ashland, Miss Hattie Ort, of Ironton, and Miss Minnie Lynn, of Dayton, O.

THE ELECTION BILL.

It Has Passed Both Houses and Now Goes to the Governor.

Lively Times Over Dr. Frazee's Capital Location Resolution, But it Was Finally Adopted.

The State Senate yesterday concurred in the House amendment to the Election bill, and passed it. The measure now goes to the Governor for his approval.

A bill was introduced in the Senate to pay the expenses of the delegation of Philadelphians and their entertainment at the Lexington Centennial. The expenses amount to $901.

In the House Dr. Frazee called up his joint resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to select sites for the location of the Capital, to enter into negotiations with the people, and take options on land. Dr. Frazee stated that he didn't offer the resolution in behalf of any particular place, but in the interest of the State. We have finished a century of statehood, and he thought the people were as much agreed that we ought to have suitable State buildings, as they were agreed on the new Constitution which was adopted by 140,000 majority.

Mr. Spalding wanted the resolution referred to the Committee on Public Offices and Library, but that committee is said to have a propensity for burying such propositions, and it was referred to the Committee on Circuit Courts.

The penitentiary appropriation bill was taken up, and, as amended by the Judiciary Committee, was passed. It appropriates $55,000 for the construction of cells at the Frankfort prison, and $10,000 for the building of a wall at Eddyville branch prison. Other items, chapels and shop rooms were stricken out on the recommendation of the committee.

The Committee on Circuit Courts, to whom had been referred the Capital removal resolution referred to above, had in the meantime held a conference and agreed to report the resolution favorably. A big stir arose, opponents of the capital removal denouncing the trick, and in order to kill the resolution moved to postpone it till next December.

The motion to postpone was defeated, and the debate grew quite warm.

Mr. Pettit finally raised the point of order that the resolution was not in proper form, and the Speaker sustained the point.

From this decision Dr. Frazee appealed. It was evident that the friends of the resolution were in a majority, and to prevent a vote on the appeal, friends of the Speaker began to filibuster.

The Speaker backed down on his decision, and ruled the resolution in order, a decision that was applauded by those who had been fighting for it.

The resolution was then adopted by a vote of fifty-four to seventeen.

The adoption of the resolution created a sensation among friends of Frankfort.
